December 7, 2007

- ❖ Thank you for bringing in all of the supplies for our upcoming Gingerbread Houses. They will be put to good use. If you were unable to turn in everything, you can still bring them in on Monday
- ❖ Gingerbread House Day – Tuesday, Dec 11th. Each class will need many volunteers to assist the children with the construction and decorating of the houses in the morning and afternoon. If you are able to volunteer, please contact your teacher if you have not already done so. You may want to bring a camera to catch the fun.
- ❖ Georgia AGAPE and the Elementary Faculty would like to thank you for donating the wonderful gifts that will bring delight to the many foster children this Christmas. You were generous and your children showed delight in bringing in your family gift.
- ❖ Science Heads Up – All students will be recording in a Food Journal next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday as part of our mini unit on Nutrition. The Food Journal will count as the test grade for this unit. Each student will also be required to plan and prepare ONE healthy meal of their choice (breakfast, lunch or dinner) for themselves and at least one other person to eat sometime during those three days. Food Journals will be discussed and passed out in class on Monday but we wanted you to get a heads up on it in case you need to pick up a few staples that your child can use. Food Journals will be due next Friday. Points will be deducted each day that they are late.
- ❖ Christmas Party – December 21st –Plans are underway for our parties by the room parents. Be on the lookout for information concerning this event.
- ❖ With two weeks of school left we are nearing the end of some of our chapters and units. Your child can inform you of tests dates and assignments that may be approaching. The end of the marking period will occur on our last day of school. Progress Reports will be available to view on-line January 7th, 2008.
