

I possess a Bachelor of Visual Arts degree from Georgia State University and a Masters of Education degree from Central Michigan University. My teaching experience includes two years of high school teaching experience in North Carolina, twenty years as head of the art department at Parkview High School in the Gwinnett County School System, and six years as the Visual Arts Department Chairman at Greater Atlanta Christian School.

I sponsor National Art Honor Society, the Senior Class, Homecoming Committee, and the Design Group. I am involved in the European Studies trip that students participate in each year during Spring Break.